An Overview of Action RPGs: Neon Abyss Game Neon Abyss is a frantic roguelite action-platformer where the dungeon evolves around your actions.1. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to an image processing device, an image processing method, and a computer program. 2. Description of the Related Art An image processing device is known which has three functions: a function of generating an image or an image from the contents of a text document, a function of creating a thumbnail image for the generated image, and a function of generating an index page. Here, when a text document is analyzed or a document having a large amount of text is created, the image data of the entire text document is read and an image is generated from the read text data. Also, when a document having a large amount of text is created, information for image display is often placed in the text data corresponding to the word or the like appearing in a position where an image is to be displayed. Thus, the entire text document is placed in a state that is represented as a text document and an image data of the text document is generated. When the image data of the entire text document is obtained by an image processing device, the amount of data of the image data is huge and there is a problem in that the cost incurred by the read time of the text data increases. Further, in order to generate a thumbnail image for the generated image, it is necessary to read the image data of the entire text document and thus the read time also increases, in addition to the problem of cost. Here, a technique for compressing text data is known in which character codes at a position where an image is to be displayed and the associated image data are first detected and then the text data at the position where the

Q: Triggering jQuery "hide" event from php
I'm working on a project where most of the values are loaded using AJAX into a php file. There is a div with a few checkboxes with an "Add Row" button, whenever a checkbox is checked I want the previous row to be removed. This I've done using jQuery, but the issue is, the Add Row button does not clear out the row. html jQuery

$(function() {
  $('input[type=checkbox]').change(function()
    if ($(this).is(':checked')) {
      $(this).parents('tr').remove();
    }
  }
});
```

$('#checkboxes_div').append(''); } else {
$(this).parents('tr').show(); } }); }); The checkbox is being generated using PHP and is stored in an array. I've also tried: $('input[type=checkbox]').change(function() { if ($ (this).is(':checked')) { $(this).parents('tr').remove();
$('#checkboxes_div').children('input').append('
