Q: In Meteor, how do I know when a method call is the last one to run? I have a method that updates the main collection and then goes through the results and saves them to an additional collection. My question is, if I call this method from a button, will it still go through everything before saving the results to the database? If it does then will it count as a new method call? Thanks A: If this is in some existing code, you can look at the section on best practices for asynchronous calls in the guide: If you're just writing code, you can use `T.Async.wrap` to build an asynchronous function. Antibacterial modification of amniotic membrane with novel cationic peptide antibiotics. The aim of this study was to develop a novel approach for modification of amniotic membranes with low-molecular-weight cationic peptide antibiotics for the prevention of bacterial infection. The peptide antibiotics selected were composed of the amino acid sequence: WFFKKKPKK and PKKKKKPPKK, and were derived from the mature peptide sequence of Agkistrodon halys pallas venom. The peptide antibiotics were prepared by solid-phase synthesis using Fmoc chemistry, and bound to amniotic membranes by incubating the membranes in solution containing the antibiotics. The membranes treated with the antibiotics had an average reduction of  $5.3 \log_{10}$  CFU  $\text{cm}^{-2}$  compared with the untreated control. The membrane-bound antibiotics still exhibited antibacterial activity against Escherichia coli and Staphylococcus epidermidis. The antibiotic-treated amniotic membranes also protected against H(3)N(+)-induced acute liver injury, based on their effects on hepatocyte proliferation. This study demonstrates that amniotic membrane modification with the antibiotic peptides can prevent bacterial infection, and is a promising new approach for effective treatment of patients with abdominal wall defects.

Netherlands vs South Korea Netherlands VS South Korea, on Wednesday, will bring the two best teams in Asia. I have watched both teams last year in the Asian Games and I believe Korea will win and become World Champion. Grossly overrated team based on numbers. Korea has 2/3 of the top individual players, which is nearly twice as much as the Netherlands. No reason to think it would have been twice as strong, even if it had a similar team. Besides, it's not really true that Korean teams are "superior". Last year at the Olympics it wasn't Korea's worst loss in the whole tournament (they did have the tournament's weakest team, after all). The only things I think they're better at than the Netherlands is hockey, and that's because they're historically better at skating, whereas the Dutch are better at putting the ball in the right spot and scoring from it, which makes them stronger all-round players. as if he didn't threaten to kill his friends and only learned how to skate a couple of years ago? Rumors like that are silly. Long distances are the enemy of swiftness. Most of
