The EarPhone is a single button, highly adjustable hearing aid solution designed for military, police, and fire rescue personnel, as well as active duty military and their families. It can be used with one or two hearing aids, and supports plug-in and wireless versions. The EarPhone attaches to the hearing aid or in the ear, using a proprietary magnetic connector that can be swapped with a choice of earpiece attachments. It also features an integrated alarm module with the capability to transmit audio and video to a remote control station. A fully automatic setting enables the apparatus to fully control a hearing aid, but it also provides manual control through a single button. The EarPhone also supports streaming devices, such as a tablet or smartphone, to send content to a remote station. The EarPhone may also be used as a stand-alone device, and has been tested to provide full hearing aid control, including A/B switching, volume control, and muting.
