Leading non-oil exports flow from Libra zone Published: Friday, February 8, 2012, 15:11 [IST] Subscribe to Oneindia News Kolkata, Feb 8 (UNI) The state government of West Bengal is set to get foreign investment of over Rs 41,640 crore for the development of diamond-bearing blocks in the Eastern part of the state by 2025, estimated by the state government. With this investment coming to the state, the per capita income for non-oil sector would be expected to increase to over Rs 2.15 lakh from the current per capita income of Rs 1.21 lakh in 2005, said Joint Director (Policy) of West Bengal State Institute of Ceramics and Glaze (WBICG), Bhaskar Bhattacharya. The state government announced West Bengal as hub for diamond mining after holding a meeting with the expert committees. During the meeting, the state government decided that more than 20 million tonne of diamond deposits would be mined from 2017-2025. The state government told the cabinet that about 2.5 million tonnes of diamond would be mined from 2007-2025. The government has already notified the Eastern part of the state as a diamond bearing area. The state government also told the cabinet that about Rs 21,890 crore would be invested into the development of 10 mining sites with an estimated expenditure of Rs 41,640 crore and 3,74,000 hectares would be acquired. The cabinet also decided to give a fresh lease for diamond mining till December 15, 2013. function go() { document.getElementById("text").innerHTML = "Proceeded to " + document.getElementById("hello").getAttribute("href"); document.getElementById("test").innerHTML = "Test!"; document.getElementById("hello").click(); } 79a2804d6b
